Authentically Human

Fr. Vineeth, Truly I love him and his style of teaching. He speaks Philosophy, Theology, spirituality and national politics very authentically...

He is very soft and sweet in nature and welcomes and receives all with his smiling face but authentic in thinking...

I love his classes on metaphysics. Still, I remember some of his discourses, namely, being and having, person and individual, meaning of change, authentic and inauthentic, etc. He comes to the class room without reference book and class notes and takes class very clearly...

I still remember the discourses on meditation pancha kosas and Nine steps of Indian meditation taught in novitiate when I was a novice...

I had deep acquaintance with him when he was appointed as the member of Preshitharam. Though he could not recollect my name he identifies the person and makes friendly talk. It includes spirituality, Devotion to Mother Mary and content of daily newspaper reading. Vineethacha, I could not make friendly talk before you leave this world...

One day I visited him in his room during his lunch-time. while he was having meals, he was telling me, I don't feel to take food but my Superior told me to take food. Yes, he is highly spiritual and religious more than that he is truly a human being. Vineethacha, the great soul, pranamam!
